

IP Indemnification Statement

January 6, 2020

As an importer and wholesaler of new compatible and remanufactured imaging supplies, Supplies Wholesalers wants to assure its Clients that all of our products are in 100% compliance with all intellectual property and patent laws with the original equipment manufacturers (OEMs).

Supplies Wholesalers represents and warrants that its products do not in any respect infringe the intellectual property rights of any persons or third parties (whether rights in patents, copyrights, or trademarks).

Supplies Wholesalers agrees to indemnify, defend and hold its Clients harmless from any and all lawsuits, actions or claims, including costs, legal fees, damages, judgments or awards (all of the foregoing being referred to as "claims") that arise out of or result from any breach of the warranty above, or any infringement by any of Supplies Wholesalers products of the intellectual property rights of any persons or third parties (whether rights in patents, copyrights, or trademarks). Supplies Wholesalers reserves the right to take over the defense for any claims or alternatively allow its supplier(s) to take over the defense. The aforementioned Intellectual Property Indemnity shall only apply to claimed products which were actually supplied by SuppliesWholesalers to the customer named in this IP Indemnification Statement, which products Supplies Wholesalers can identify via visual inspection or pictures. The foregoing indemnification shall not apply to, and Supplies Wholesalers shall have no responsibility or liability of any kind respecting, claims arising out of or resulting from acts or omissions of its Clients other than simply the importation, offering, sale or use of Supplies Wholesalers products as intended by and between Supplies Wholesalers and its Clients. This IP Indemnification Statement commences January 6, 2020. The legal venue for any disputes shall be Reno (Washoe County), Nevada.
